TRANSPORTATION TYPES

- Ambulette: transportation for medical treatment that is not for a lifesaving situation. Ambulances used to transport people in non-emergencies and without the need of sirens.
- Curb-to-curb service: on both the origin and destination ends of the trip, the driver gets out of the vehicle and assists the passenger between the vehicle and a sidewalk or other waiting area.
- Demand Response/Dial-A-Ride: passenger trips that are generated by over-the-phone, mobile app, or online requests for a scheduled vehicle to pick the passengers up and transport them to their destinations.
- Door through door service: driver assists the passenger into the vehicle and into their home.

TRANSPORTATION TYPES

- Door-to-door service: driver meets the passenger outside of the door of the pick-up location and drops them off at the door of the destination
- Door-to-door service, driver assisted: driver meets the passenger outside of the door of the pick-up location and assists them from the vehicle to the door of the destination
- Fixed Route Transit: Buses operate on a predetermined route according to a predetermined schedule. This type of service uses timetables and designated stops where riders are picked up and dropped off.
- Non-Emergency Medical Transportation: transportation services offered to patients and healthcare consumers for getting to medical appointments that are not considered to be lifesaving situation appointments.
