FRANKLIN COUNTY ENGINEER

FRANKLIN COUNTY
ENGINEER'S ANTIRACISM
& EQUITY PROGRAM

June 30, 2020

The Franklin County Engineer's Office denounces racism in all forms. More needs to be done now. We pledge to listen and continue to learn more from those affected by racism, and we will strive to promote meaningful and lasting change in our organization, Franklin County, and society at large.

Franklin County Engineer's Antiracism & Equity Program

The Franklin County Engineer's Office (FCEO) is an agency of action, innovation and collaboration. Events in 2020 compelled our organization to take action against the complex nature of racism in the United States in a very intentional and purposeful manner while following the FCEO Vision Statement (Attachment A) and more specifically paragraph 3, which reads, "The Franklin County Engineer's Office is focused on offering a diverse and inclusive work environment where all employees are supported and have the opportunity to share ideas, to grow, and to succeed. We develop future leaders by providing training and education opportunities. Our team understands the importance of, and is committed to utilizing small and disadvantaged business enterprises through procurement and professional services. We actively pursue public engagement and outreach to underserved populations of Franklin County."

This intentional and purposeful approach will be a top priority and will assist us in creating new programs to support our pledge to work to eradicate racism through collaboration in three areas:

1. Workforce Team
2. Vendors, Suppliers, Consultants, Contractors
3. Community Outreach & Public Engagement

Therefore, the Franklin County Engineer has established the Franklin County Engineer's Antiracism & Equity Program (FCE AEP), which contains specific, positive, measureable action items to explicitly and publicly affirm our identity as an anti-racist agency in these three areas. As an anti-racist agency, we pledge to purposefully identify, discuss, and challenge ourselves to understand and correct any inequities we may discover, and gain a better understanding of ourselves during this purposeful process with our teammates, outside organizations, and everyone in Franklin County who we serve whether they be residents, citizens, constituents, those who work in Franklin County but live elsewhere, or those just traveling through Franklin County. The Franklin County Engineer will use this document to develop relationships of solidarity, support, and trust rooted in intentional antiracist thought, action, and reflection.

The FCE AEP was created internally after conducting eight "Listening Meetings" with a task force of subject matter experts within Franklin County. To be intentional and purposeful we will evaluate the action items of the FCE AEP on a quarterly basis with this same task force to ascertain if we are meeting our goals and objectives and will revise the program as needed. We will also conduct open discussions and facilitate a constant dialogue regarding healthy racial relations with our teammates at our monthly project status meetings, weekly staff meetings, individual department meetings, and in a new and smaller meeting format known as "Togetherness Meetings." Annually, on or around May 25th of each year, the Franklin County Engineer will present the updated FCE AEP to the Board of Commissioners reporting action items that have been completed, those in progress, and new action items added for the future.

The FCEO considers diversity to mean acknowledging, understanding, accepting, celebrating and valuing the uniqueness of all individuals. Each person is an individual with visible and non-visible differences, and by respecting this, everyone can feel valued for their contributions, which is beneficial not only for the individual but for the FCEO as well. Inclusion is the intentional act of embracing diversity and establishing a culture where each uniquely different person is provided the opportunity to thrive, succeed and excel. Diversity is what you have.....Inclusion is what you do.

Equity helps everyone to recognize that advantages and barriers exist, and that, as a result, we do not all have the same starting point. Equity is an approach that ensures everyone has access to the same opportunities. Equity is a process that begins by acknowledging the unequal starting place and continues by addressing and correcting the imbalance.

Workforce Team

The FCEO is striving to create an inclusive workplace where everyone feels valued for their contributions. This is beneficial not only for the individual but for the FCEO as well. This FCE AEP provides us with a road map to create a diverse and inclusive environment in the workplace, with our business partners, and in the community. To help us achieve this, we need the commitment of every employee to understand what we are trying to achieve, to work together, and be open to change. This program is everyone's responsibility, and all are strongly encouraged to participate and get involved.

To have a respectful and supportive organization that acknowledges, understands, accepts, celebrates and values the uniqueness of all individuals, and by respecting this, everyone can feel valued for their contributions, which is beneficial for all parties involved. This will also assist in attracting and retaining a diverse workforce that is reflective of the community in which we live. This program will help us achieve our organizational goals. It provides a focused direction and commitment so we can work together to respect and value our diverse workforce and build a more inclusive work environment.

The Franklin County Engineer's anti-racism commitment will be reflected in the culture of the agency through policies, programs, practices, and internal communications as we continue to work to eradicate racism. See the June 3, 2020 Diversity & Inclusion Department Message of Encouragement (Attachment B) co-written and co-signed by Franklin County Engineer, Cornell R. Robertson, P.E., P.S. and Diversity & Inclusion Coordinator, Simone Y. Burley.
