Survey Development
Working Group Members, led by Christina Drummond and Aaron Schill, reviewed, discussed the current survey questions, specifically looking for unintentional overlap.

Members also discussed a rubric that exists that will determine the criticality of data storage and other governmental functions. Christian Selch will add the rubric to the Working Group’s SharePoint file to facilitate creation of the Toolkit.

Chair McCollough suggested that several working meetings be scheduled to continue the progress made on the survey questions at the May 26 meeting. He also suggested that other agenda items (Focus Groups and Public-Private Cyber Intel and Fusion Center) be tabled until a later meeting. Aaron added that Nationwide staff will present the Public-Private Cyber Intel and Fusion Center white paper at the Regional Data Advisory Committee meeting on June 2.

Aaron will send members links to the survey question matrix and to SharePoint. He suggested that members review the matrix doc without making changes, but to use comment tool in excel to track those track changes. Changes and suggestions will be discussed at the Group’s next working meeting.

Survey Development
Status of Institutional Review Board (IRB) Application
• There will be two IRB applications: one for the survey and one for the focus group
• The sequence of steps to move through the IRB process will be:
  1) The Survey Instrument is sent to the IRB
  2) Approval
  3) Survey goes is distributed to mailing list
  4) Results are gathered
  5) Focus Group Instrument is sent to the IRB
  6) Approval
  7) Focus Groups meet

Status of Hermetic Scan / Revisit Survey Questions
Christina Drummond has been gathering the survey questions, dividing them by category, and reviewing question formats. This question vs. domain review will help find any duplication of questions. The goal is not to delete duplications, but to acknowledge that if there is a duplication it is meant to be in the survey.

Questions will ask, “What is your priority to do something?” rather than “Do you have the means to do something?” The survey is looking for priority, and then the focus groups will tease out the respondent’s ability. The Toolkit will provide what municipalities need to achieve their priorities. A respondent may not be implementing a policy because of a lack of resources, but the policy is still a high priority; that is why the Working Group decided on the intensity of priority scale.

Members decided that two people are needed to review these questions collaboratively. Aaron Schill and Christina volunteered to do so.

Survey Mailing List
Members reviewed the demographics criteria for the survey, and decided that the current personal role and agency type categories are acceptable, but the population size cutoffs may need to be revised. Christian Selch and Aaron will review MORPC’s most recent population estimates after the meeting and discuss a revision.
MORPC staff will review the mailing list for personnel changes, update the list, and present the updated list at a later meeting.

Members discussed breaking the survey distribution into distinct survey campaigns – one wave to City Managers, one to Mayors, one to City Attorneys, etc. A decision will be made at a later meeting.

Focus Groups
Status of Focus Group Attendee List
The attendee list has not yet been created. There will either be one large group or two small groups, depending on the results from the survey. Aaron reminded the members that all MORPC meetings will be remote through the Summer, possibly into Fall. MORPC staff has successfully hosted several large group meetings with breakout sessions; remote focus group meetings may be possible.

Christina will send members a Focus Group Facilitator Guide in the near future.

Next Steps
Members agreed to check in with each other via email through the next few weeks.

Adjourned at 3:59 pm.
